NEW

Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Road Number 1982

N

This 70' heavyweight horse car is painted Pullman Green with gold lettering and black roof and runs on 6-wheel passenger trucks. Heavyweight horse cars were designed to transport valuable livestock between race tracks and training facilities during the 20s and 30s. During WW2 they moved cavalry units, acted as early auto transport cars, and then, as they transitioned with lightweight cars, became express baggage cars.

NEW

Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Road Number 178

N

This heavyweight diner car is painted Pullman Green with gold lettering and black roof and runs on 6-wheel passenger trucks. Like other railroads, CB&Q fielded several dining cars to provide meal service on overnight trains. These cars came with a fully staffed kitchen and dining facilities in one car for convenience.

NEW

Canadian Pacific Road Number Assiniboine

N

This 3-2 heavyweight observation car is maroon with black rounded roof and buff lettering and runs on 6-wheel passenger trucks. The Canadian Pacific Railroad observation car named Assiniboine provided premium service for patrons traveling across the wide expanse of Canada. Fitted with both first class coach and sleeping accommodations, these cars proved popular with their patrons.

CSX/C&O Road Numbers C&O 141271/141341

N

These 100-ton 3-bay open hoppers are black with yellow lettering and run on Roller Bearing trucks. CSX is the culmination of the mergers of several railroads that provided the bulk of coal and ore shipping for most of the 20th Century. These were built in 1985 as part of the C&O fleet that became CSX in 1987.

NEW CSX/AX Sun Group
Road Number 232514/211026

This 53' corrugated container was built by CIMC of China and found favor with many transportation and railroad companies including CSX since 1989. Because of their increased size, they are considered for domestic use only and not for sea transportation. They are also a full 1' taller than other containers and generally found stacked on top of shorter units on well cars.

NEW 53' CORRUGATED CONTAINERS!

This 53' corrugated container was built by CIMC for the Canadian firm, and found favor with many transportation and railroad companies since 1989. Because of their increased size, they are considered for domestic use only and not for sea transportation. They are also a full 1' taller than other containers and generally found stacked on top of shorter units on well cars.
